LIMESTONE DEMOCRATS HOLD STORMY SESSION

YANK FLIER ERIC SMITH GOING IT ALONE BOUND FOR NORTH

ABOARD U. S. CRUISER RICHMOND, ORKNEY ISLANDS, Aug. 2.—Lieutenant Eric C. Nelson, missing American round the world flier, has been sighted off Faroe Islands by the torpedo boat Billingsley. The Billingsley radioed the Richmond that Nelson flew over Faroes at 12:50 Greenwich time, speeding toward Iceland, apparently determined to continue the flight alone. The weather was cleared and conditions ahead favorable. Nelson is accompanied by Mechanic Harding.

KIRKWALL, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2.—Lieut. Eric Nelson of the American around the world flight was winging his way toward Iceland alone today after becoming separated from his flying mates in a fog 25 miles out of Houton Bay, off Kirkwall.

Lieut. Lowell Smith, commander of the flight and Lieut. Leigh Wade decided to return to Houton Bay when they lost Nelson in the dense mist which hung over the north Atlantic. The commander and Wade flew back over Kirkwall at 10:15 a. m. and circled over Houton Bay to their landing buoys.

Meantime the U. S. Cruiser Richmond, which had cheered the fliers departure, put out to sea under full steam to race in the wake of the speeding Nelson and render him assistance if it is needed.

The Richmond sent out hurried radio to the torpedo boat destroyers Reid and Billingsley warning them that Nelson was on his way alone and asking that a close lookout be kept for him.

The two ships previously had taken up position along the route of the flyers from Houton Bay to Hornafjord, Iceland.

WEATHER WAS FINE FOR FLIERS HOP SATURDAY

BOARD U. S. RICHMOND, OFF KIRKWALL, ORKNEY ISLAND, Aug. 2.—When America's round the world fliers took off on their 550-mile jump to Iceland at 9:30 a. m. today the weather here was fair.

Fog, which had held the world airmen prisoners in Houton bay for two days after their successful flight from Brough, England, lifted during the night and the three big planes, riding gracefully at their buoy anchors were made ready at daybreak.

There was a great roasting of motors and testing a final inspection and then an anxious wait for radio messages from the torpedo boat destroyers, Reid and Billingsley for reports on the weather along the course.

Finally, the radio man on the Richmond called out and a group of officers gathered round as he handed over the message "favorable."

"Fifteen miles visibility" the Reid shot through a minute later and then the same word came from the Billings.

It was then 6 a. m. and the airmen decided to take off at 8 o'clock.

Final preparations were not completed until after 9, however and it was 9:20 when the signal to take off was given.

Lieut. Lowell Smith in the flagship of the air squadron took the lead, skimming across the bay followed by his two companion, Lieuts. Wade and Nelson.

The three planes took the air practically simultaneously and then soared away to open the race.

Blueackets on the Richmond sent up a great cheer and the stars and stripes fluttered bravely in the morning breeze as the big machines winged into the air toward Iceland on the first leg of their final perilous flight to the home land.

All the airmen were confident as they bussed and about their preparations this morning and after hearty breakfasts.

"It may be a hard flight" said Lieut. Smith "but I don't think we will encounter the difficulties we experienced in Alaska and the Aleutians."

Some icebergs was reported along the route but it was not anticipated they would cause trouble.

ARGENTINE AVIATOR IN AIR CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 2.—Major Pedro Zamal, Argentine aviator attempting an eastward flight around the world took off from Buenos Aires today for Karachi, India. All apparently quiet now.

Allied Conference Making Rapid Strides Toward Settlement

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The allied conference here moved rapidly toward its goal of putting the Dawes program into execution, thus providing the machinery for general European settlement of the reparations problem. The plenary session agreed on an invitation to Germany to send delegates to a conference and the invitation was telegraphed to Berlin later in the afternoon by the German ambassador. It was understood that the allied message was a simple request that Germany send representatives.

BIG SEVEN BEGAN WORK ON TEXT INVITATION TO HUNS

By LLOYD ALLEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The plenary session of the allied conference here today reached an agreement to forward an invitation to Germany at once to send delegates to the conference, according to authoritative information.

Sources close to the conferences were optimistic, indicating an agreement had been reached and that the tangled German reparations question finally is well on the way to the settlement through application of the program of the committee of experts headed by Dawes of the United States.

The conference accepted the reports of its first and third committees to-day.

The invitation to Germany probably will be sent to Berlin this afternoon and the Germans delegates will start immediately for London to agree to the new program. The German government already declared itself in favor of the Dawes program in principle.

The plenary session lasted two and one half hours and it was understood the conference reached agreement on a majority of the questions at issue, accepting the French proposals in all essentials.

The "big seven" began consideration of the text of the invitation to Germany at once and expected the German representatives would arrive here Tuesday. This might make possible completion of the conference next week.

Be it resolved by the democrats of Limestone county, in convention duly assembled at Groesbeck, Texas, that we commend the platform of the National Democratic Party passed at the National Democratic convention held at New York as expressing and enunciating the true thesis and scheme of representative government and pledge our unqualified support to the party principles therein set forth; that we believe that it is the only platform of any party in America today that promises or holds forth any relief whatever to the great toiling masses of farm, factory and field, and offers to solve their problems; that we recognize in the nominees of our National convention for President and vice president, John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan, the peerless leaders of the great forces of democracy to lead us out of the mires and cess pools of graft and malfeasance in office practiced by the Republican party for the last three years into the lofty plains of clean representative government and crush the evil influence of predatory wealth and special interests predatory wealth and special interests thereby redeeming our great nation and placing it back into the hands of the common people.

Be it resolved by the democrats of Limestone county, in convention duly assembled at Groesbeck, Texas, that we as democrats unqualifiedly endorse each and every nominee of the Democratic party in Texas duly nominated by our party at the primary election held on July 26th, 1924, for state county and precinct offices, and those

CROWE LOSES FOR SECOND TIME IN LEOPOLD-LOEB CASE

CRIMINAL COURT. Chicago, Aug. 2.—States Attorney Robert Crowe today failed for the second time to force the mental condition of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb before a jury while examining Dr. William White, alienist, who appeared in defense of the youths who murdered Robert Franks. Crowe attempted to force the witness to state whether in his opinion the boys were insane. The defense objected and Justice Caverly sustained the objection. Other similar moves were repudiated.

By EDWARD C. DERR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CRIMINAL COURT, Chicago, Aug. 2.—Playing his cards with the sureness of a master, Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney in the Leopold-Loeb murder case, is awaiting an opportunity to make a surprise play and rest his case. Darrow feels that his efforts have been so effective thus far that he may not be forced to play out the entire hand as planned.

A new surprise move is expected—a move that will bring the defense case to an abrupt termination. Defense attorneys made it known earlier that plans called for the introduction of evidence by numerous alienists, members of the Leopold and Loeb families, close friends, acquaintances—including boys and girls—and perhaps the boys themselves. The witnesses were to go into the history of the boys and perhaps go even further.

But Darrow, keen observer and crafty player feels elated with his work thus far, and it was made known he feels he does not have to extend much more force to win the victory—the victory being to have Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb sentenced to life in prison.

Several defense alienists remain to testify after Dr. William A. White, Washington, concludes his testimony.

Whether Darrow will place more than another one on the stand depends on how he interprets the mood of the court. At present Darrow feels he has established his point—that the youths were not wholly responsible for their crime.

We also reaffirm our belief in the far sighted wisdom of the people of this nation and state in giving to women equal rights and privileges of franchise with men and command the noble women of our land in making possible many of the great reforms of progressive democracy.

Be it resolved that the democrats of Limestone county, in convention duly assembled at Groesbeck, Texas, do hereby solemnly pledge ourselves to a strict and rigid enforcement of all the laws of our nation and states constitutional and statutory, by and through the duly elected and constituted authorities chosen to exercise such functions, and by no other method.

Respectfully submitted by your Committee on Resolutions the 2nd day of August, A. D. 1924.

POLITICAL CHATS

Citizens of Mexia and poltax payers. You well know that you can vote as you please for the man or woman that you want as your public servant in the various offices for state and county, so go to the polls and gratify that wish that you paid $1.75 to do.

If you are not a politician and not looking for pie, why should you worry?

When the election is over you will have to look to one another for your living support, as you have in the past. As none of these in control in the past and none in the future, will help the man on the street tearing his shirt sleeves off for him. You are only making a fool out of yourself and losing your prestige in your own community. So why be a fool for others. Be calm and vote as you please and let others do likewise.

High-Up Weather Station at Banff Attracts Many Visitors

CAVE AND BASIN, ON SULPHUR MOUNTAIN,
BANFF

N. B.
SANSON

MOUNTAIN

On one of the nine peaks of Sulphur Mountain, that stretch over a distance of seven miles and reach a maximum altitude of 8,030 feet at Banff in the Canadian Rockies, stands a staunch 12-foot square hut. It is built of stone with foundations sunk deep into the mountain top, for it must withstand terrific winds, gales of from forty and sixty miles an hour are common on top of Mt. Sulphur. On its roof is a spidery, steel tower from which observations are taken.

For twenty years this station has been in charge of N. B. Sanson, meteorologist, who faithfully chronicled records of the weather on the mountains and in the surrounding valleys. This twenty years has been replete with interesting experiences, some of them惊险的. Mr. Sanson is a naturalist too, and the Banff Museum contains specimens of almost every bird, beast, reptile, insect, plant and mineral that exists in the district, all collected by him.

He has kept a diary through the years and it is filled with fascinating observations on grouse, rabbits, bear, mountain goats and on strange flowers and lichens. On Sept. 4th he picked strawberries near the mountain's top, and once, in the dead of winter, with the mercury at 20 below zero, he found two snow spiders walking on the snow. They had spun webs over the hollows made by a man's footprints in the snow and there they entraped snow flies.

Guests at Banff will find a visit to this high-up hut and its devoted attendant, a most interesting excursion. Three-fourths of the distance may be made by pony. Scientists, geologists, botanists and nature lovers, delight in listening to Mr. Sanson relate anecdotes incident to life on Banff's look-out. The view from this point is unusually thrilling, a wide vista spreading far in every direction. Mr. Sanson is also a noted Alpinist and has climbed practically all the peaks in his district.

This is one of the unusual things to do at Banff, another is to bathe in the Government and Banff Springs Hotel glass-enclosed swimming pools that are constantly replenished by hot sulphur water sent up from subterranean springs under Sulphur Mountain. Outdoor bathing is enjoyed twelve months in the year. Another unique sport is that afforded by the Government Golf Course laid out along the Bow River among great mountains and often cloud-enshrouded.

Costumes This Fall Are Featuring Spanish Influence

The long beltless tunics hold their strong position; fringe and soutache stimulate the Spanish effect. Incongruously the silhouette retains its Indo-Chinese characteristic. It is either a long tube, or it is a tube with the cambodian flare, added at the hip to stop at the knee or added at the knee to stop at the hem. This flare is achieved by godets inserted at intervals, pie shaped pieces with point at top or by circular set on sections.

In dresses black is foremost for day wear. Severely plain frocks of satin crepe and nanette Lustre Crepe Satin. Among the wools, plain styles are shown in Kasha and Rep, oddly enough, dark blue is the accepted color where rep is employed and is frequently combined with red. Red is much used with black in restrained touches.

Coat styles of dresses in wool and crepe, show a diagonal closing with buttons, fastened at left hip and tailored long sleeves with gauntlet cuffs or the buttoned band running up back of arm for several inches. The models are plain, sometimes with and sometimes without collars.

Fringe is featured prominently. It appears in tired effects in diagonal treatments, to weight scarfs and tunics, and in many ways it strikes the Spanish cord in fashions. A single heavy silk tassel is a note frequently observed in crepe dresses and even coats.

The dress materials of the season deserving emphasis are velvet including artificial and printed varieties, crepe satin and artificial satin and all the corded silks such as faille, poplin and ottoman. Among the crepes are crepe de chine, romaine, maracoin, georgette and nanette. Wool dress fabrics stress kasha, rep and fine twills. For evening there is velvet and satin, net, beaded or embroidered tulle, metal cloth, and brocades, in lace silver and gold flounces.

THE NEW IN HATS

Very small high crowned shapes with narrow rolled or straight brims shorter at the back than the front. The Spanish influence is emphasized and is featured in the high, flat crowned type of hat with straight sailor brim. These hats are trimmed with a band of gorsprain or ribbon velvet occasionally caught by a nickel or pearl buckle.

Felt reigns supreme and is used in every shade on the color card. Brown however takes precedence. The new brown is a soft new shade of chestnut. In addition, the light pinkish tones of cinnamon are endorsed.

Trimmings are less and less in vogue and practically all the hats are now feature inconspicuously trimmed with fancy bands. A tuft of wings or a single flower, ribbons, ostrich fantasies, appliques of cut felt, silk trimming in velvet ornamental pins, novel animal motifs in nickel, enamel and crystal are featured.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 2.—George Shultz, former associate Judge United States Supreme Court, died in hospital here Saturday after a lingering illness, aged 92.

Great Evangelistic Party Coming to Mexia Christian Church

The Vawter Evangelistic Company

C. R. L. Vawter is one of our best known evangelists. For sixteen years he has been holding revival meetings all over the United States, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. He has as many as 500 additions in a single church meeting. Especially does he appeal to men because of his logical reasoning power. Through-out his sermons his Irish wit is in evidence, and his sermons are intensely interesting. The musical party will add much to the services. They have a four and one-half octave Marimba-Xylophone and a set of Organ Chimes. The biggest and showiest instrument in the evangelistic field, they surely command the attention of the public. This meeting will begin early in September and continue about three weeks. Further announcement will be made later.

G. T. REAVES, Pastor.

FERGUSON FORCES FAIL TO CONTROL DELEGATES ASSEMBLED AT GROESBECK

the successful candidates for governor and the other for the other candidate to be voted on in the approaching primary. The chair listened to arguments on both sides of the substitute and then ruled Mr. Hanna out of order, stating that according to the convention system of the Democratic party the delegation committee would make only one report and then if someone desired to substitute another list that that would be the proper way to get the subject before the house.

As to the delegation committee, the chair stated that every delegation seeking a seat in the convention should submit its statement and credentials to the credentials committee, giving the deliberative body an opportunity to pass on the question and thus expedite matters considerably, assuring justice and fair play to all.

An amendment was then offered to the motion that the chair also appoint a committee of three on permanent organization.

The motion as amended prevailed with the opposition remaining silent.

The committees appointed were as follows:

Resolutions: Owen F. Watkins, W. P. Alexander and H. H. Alexander; Delegation: Albert H. Berry, E. A. Allen and J. D. McElroy; Credentials: Tom L. Cox, C. W. Moody and Steve F. Collins; Permanent Organization: L. S. Suttle, W. C. Cook and T. J. Cole.

The committees were instructed to meet at once in rooms in the courthouse, following which a motion prevailed to adjourn until one o'clock. The hour was spent with both sides working among the delegates to sound out how they stood on what had been done. When the convention reassembled at one o'clock it was apparent from the outset that friends had been gained by the eloquent address of Ben H. Hunt, who had served as floor leader for the majority in all the deliberations of the body. His address was the subject on almost all lips and the convention generally was impressed with the fact that an endeavor was being earnestly made to proceed in a manner, fully in accord with law and in the spirit of fairness to all.

The convention met with the feeling that a real tilt was to feature the afternoon session. The chair called for a report from the committee on permanent organization. The committee recommended that the temporary chairman and secretary be made permanent. The motion prevailed with the opposition remaining silent when the vote on the negative was put, L. S. Suttle placing the motion before the house.

The chair then thanked the body for the confidence reposed in him and stated that he hoped that the deliberations of the convention would remain free from bitterness and that all would remember that they had come to represent and serve the best interests of the Democratic party, which sentiment he was sure was concurred in by the delegates present.

He called for a report from the committee on credentials. The report was made by Tom L. Cox. Since Kosso was not listed with the accredited delegates, Jim Bradley moved that the delegation from that point be seated. The chair asked the credentials committee whether Kosso had presented credentials to them.

Mr. Cox, replying for the committee, stated that none had been presented. A delegate from New Hope then was recognized stating that he was there without any credentials and that if Kosso was seated, every box in the county that had not held a precinct convention would be entitled to a seat but that he thought that the principle of protecting conventions by the law should be followed. The chair ruled Mr. Bradley's motion out of order, stating that he

JEFFRIES HOLDS SURGEONS AND THE GUSHERS WIN GAME

Nugent was wild, while Jeffries was in great form and held the Surgeons in the pinches. Ned Seely led the Gusher attack with two drives over the right field fence. Jeffries fanned eleven. Surgeons and on six different occasions fanned his man for the third out and in the second, third, seventh, eighth and ninth innings struck out two batters when the Surgeons threatened to score. The Gushers will play Temple again Sunday at 3:30 o'clock.

INDUSTRY BEGETS INDUSTRY.

That industry begets industry is reflected in the attitude of folks everywhere following the consummation of some certain hope. For example, the building of a cotton mill in Mexia this year will be just the beginning of a great industry here. After it is built, then there'll be another. At least that's the way Waco looks at it. In the Waco News-Tribune of Saturday, there appeared the following comment:

The people of Waco read with interest the story Friday of the concrete steps taken in preparing to build the new Texas cotton mill at Mexia.

Mexia has had the matter under consideration for a year or more, and now the charter has been granted with a capital stock of $450,000, the plant to manufacture cotton goods. J. K. Hughes, one of the three incorporators mentioned, is one of the 100 directors of the Texas Centennial, having been chosen from the Waco district, and W. V. Crawford is the other director from the district.

People of Mexia showed their faith in the cotton mill industry by putting up the cold cash. Waco just now has an opportunity to land another big cotton mill, and it is believed that the chance will not be neglected. As soon as business men return to Waco from their vacations definite and final action is to be taken.

KIWANIS CLUBS TO WORK FOR VOTE

A vigorous campaign to get all voters to vote in the fall elections is being planned by all the Kiwanis clubs of the country, in accordance with policies which have been adopted by Kiwanis International at a meeting just concluded here.

In 1896 80% of all those eligible voted in the presidential elections; in 1900, 73% voted; in 1908 the percentage decreased to 66%; in 1912 there was a further decrease to 62%; and in 1920 less than 50% of the voters exercised their franchise.

"This campaign," said Victor M. Johnson, newly elected president of Kiwanis International, "will be to urge all citizens to express the desires of the entire people, and not less than half of them. A continuation of the present low voting percentage would certainly lead to the impracticabilities and danger of a radical minority. The work of the clubs will be part of our general campaign to promote an intelligent, aggressive and responsible citizenship."

"There is no partnership in this campaign, and no fund is being raised to carry it on. Members of each of the 1250 Kiwanis Clubs will work in their communities, purely on a basis of developing this much needed citizenship."

All civic clubs in Limestone County would render a high service by joining with the Kiwanis club in this worthy endeavor.

FARMERS LISTEN TO COUNTY AGENTS.

"There was a time when the county agricultural agent was not regarded as essential. Farmers looked upon him with suspicion," declares the Greenville Banner. His ideas were called "new tangled" and impractical. Many resented any tendency to change them from practices that had been handed down to them from generations back.

Gradually, especially in the prosperous and most progressive counties of this state and nation as well, this attitude has been changed. The farmer sends his sons to an agricultural college in order to make it possible for them to compete with the educated, scientific farmer of tomorrow and they heed the county agent just as they insist upon their own children heed the words of the teachers in school.

The county agent that devotes the majorportion of his time toward teaching the most advanced ideas in farming is sure to render his constituency a valuable service and by him and his efforts home conditions in rural sections will be bettered.

His duties should be and are generally along extension lines and in distributing information helpful in all fields of farm endeavor.

Limestone County needs such an agent, if she would go forward rapidly and keep apace with the best.

IMMORTAL STORIES FOR YOUTH AND AGE

Children of America lost a dear friend when Palmer Cox passed away. His elated figures came to be quite well known in the juvenile world, just like the illustrious characters chronicled in Alice of Wonderland, Palace of Oz and other popular children's stories. Cox has departed but he has left his footprints on the sands of time in his Brownie stories. They will live throughout the generations yet unborn when children will still be told of and believe in kingdoms and palaces and other worlds in the realm of imagery far beyond the hills of dreamland. With all their wonderful talents offering stories throbbing with interest to the children of the world, however, no writers have ever equalled the story of Joseph as told in the Bible. No parent can find anything so grippingly fascinating to youth and age alike as that marvelous story told in God's Holy Word.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THESE DAYS IN WHICH WE LIVE

The Texas Christian Advocate
A marked characteristic of the day in which we live is the revolt against authority, and the breaking down, in Christianity is to overlook the fact that there is in Christianity itself that conquering power which will make such an undesirable situation impossible. However, it must be said that Christianity unless it is embodied and in a militant state cannot overcome the forces of evil which are to be found on every hand in this day. All impotent and inconsequential Gospel is powerless to cope with the task.

The love of leisure that is in itself destructive of some of our highest and most cherished ethical conceptions—is one of the powerful factors shaping the thinking of the day. In spite of all our efforts there yet remains in America a vast portion of the population that is not directly affected by the influence of the Church. The solution of the problem of course is to bring these people more directly under the power of the Gospel and the influence of the Church. Just how that is to be done is of course, the very heart of the problem. But that it must be done it would seem that all will heartily agree.

Professor Joseph A. Leighton, in a chapter entitled "The Recrudescence of Paganism," in his book, "Religion and the Mind of Today," gives utterance to these words, which will give pause to every thoughtful reader: "No great civilization has ever outlasted the demise of its religious faith. If the moral bases of our culture are in imminent danger, the danger can be averted only by a new crusade on behalf of social righteousness and personal integrity, animated by a religious view of life. I need not remind you that here the Christian and the Jew stand together on the common ground of a prophetic ethical religion, whose controlling principle of faith and action is the vision of a righteous social order, the Kingdom of God."

In this connection it is not at all out of place to call attention to that homely and neglected doctrine—the doctrine of repentance. The glorious Gospel of the blessed God—as Paul refers to it—is sufficient for the needs of this day, and is the only solvent.

HACK WILSON, OF GIANTS
REAL FIND FOR McGRAW

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Every once in a while a youngster comes into the big league and makes good. This year Hack Wilson, outfielder of the Giants, short and pudgy, but with a pair of shoulders like a wrestler, is the "star" of the National League. Wilson is a fixture. He is at the heels of Rogers Hornsby for batting honors, can field his position like a veteran and is the "spark plug" of the older circuit. Wilson's specialties are three-base hits—very timely hits. McGraw got him from the Virginia League, and he did not cost a fortune, like some of the "flavors" who also tried to graduate from the minors.

Simplicity Marks Coolidge's Life; President Keeps His Modest Home In Town Where He Rose to Fame

Simplicity and reserve are outstanding characteristics of "Calvin Coolidge."

Of humble origin, he has risen to the heights along a self-blazed trail, without evidence of pomp or circumstance. Even after he had attained high public office, it was his desire to live modestly as a "plain American" and as an inspiration to those who bear his name.

Always the farmer boy, the nation's Chief Executive retains his keen affection for Vermont's rolling hills and never is more content than he is at home among his own people. "Vermont is my birthright," he has said. "Here one gets close to nature, in the mountains, in the brooks, in the waters, of which hurry to the sea; in the lakes, shining like silver in the green setting; fields tilled not by machinery, but by the brain and hand of man. My folks are happy and contented. They belong to themselves, live within their income and fear no man."

The modesty of Calvin Coolidge has been manifested throughout his career. When he first went from Northampton, Mass., to Boston as an obscure member of the State Legislature, he sought out an inside room on the upper floor of a hotel. There he found the seclusion he loved and the arrangement satisfied his idea of thrift. After his service in the State Legislature, when the citizenry of Massachusetts selected him as a candidate for governor, those who noticed him of his nomination found him in this same unpretentious place.

And after his election the family home in Northampton, half of a modest two-family dwelling, renting for thirty-odd dollars a month, was retained. Officialdom might have been somewhat surprised by this decision. The good folk of Northampton who had watched the progress of their adopted son were not. The wooden house was good enough for the Governor and Mrs. Coolidge agreed with him.

There came the nomination for the Vice-Presidency, and subsequent election to that responsible office. The good folk of Northampton then thought surely they would lose their neighbor. They did not. The Vice-President-elect went to Washington and rented a suite in the Willard Hotel, but the vans never backed up to the doors of the Northampton house. It remained Vice-President Coolidge's home.

When fate ordained that Calvin Coolidge be vested with the Presidency, the White House his official residence, things looked somewhat dubious for the modest home in Vermont legislature.

Mrs. Bertha H. Sternberger has been elected president and director of one of the large cotton mill corporations of Greensboro, N. C.

The "Grand Old Woman of Methism" is a title bestowed upon Mrs. L. M. Fields, now in her ninetieth year, who has attended the Des Plaines (Ill.) camp meeting regularly for more than half a century.

Mary Anderson de Navarro, the once famous American actress, will reach her 65th birthday anniversary on July 28. For many years she has lived in quiet retirement at her country home in Worcestershire, England.

Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve, dean of Barnard College and one of the most brilliant of American women educators, has been nominated for the presidency of the International Federation of University Women which is about to open its third biennial convention at Christiania.

There are some women in New York who earn their living simply by shopping. These women are the "price testers" employed by the big stores. Their work consists in visiting stores selling similar goods to those sold by their employers and purchasing or closely examining articles so that relative prices and quality may be compared.

The Queen of Spain has a wonderful dolls' house, given to her by her godmother, the late ex-Empress Eugenie of France. It is an exact model to scale of the Tuilleries, and was constructed at a cost of $7,500. Queen Ena keeps this dolls' house, which is among her most prized possessions in the royal palace at Madrid.

Queen Mary is said to be far more economical in the matter of clothes than is generally understood. Periodically she makes a personal inspection of her wardrobe, in order to decide what clothes shall be reserved for wear on subsequent occasions.

casions and what shall be disposed of as no longer required. Much of the lace, used upon her gowns, belongs to her very private collection, and as soon as it has served its purpose it is carefully removed by her maid and packed away for use on some subsequent occasion.

Case Of Baseball Vs Golf and Tennis

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—As they come down the back-stretch in the major league baseball races, it begins to look more than ever like the Giants and the Yanks for the world series. And my guess would make the Giants favorites in the big series.

A few weeks ago this column said the Yanks were fading fast, but would probably muster strength enough to pull out and win the 1924 pennant. It still looks that way. Naturally, there is an "if". That is the saving grace in baseball.

Huggins must have luck and comparative freedom from injuries if he gets under the wire ahead. He isn't getting much pitching, but the Yanks pack a terrific punch and the team is hitting again, but a blanket would cover the first four clubs, and Huggins knows that if the Yanks stub their toe, all seven of their competitors will "nut the boots" to his noble athletes if they get three points down. And they'll chance a foul, at that.

So much for the Yanks, who, before the season began, were runaway favorites.

The good old Giants! The experts, April 1, said John McGraw had only an old glove, his personal brain and a band of "has-beens" and never-wases' left only for the old folks' home. They turned the Giants loose in the cellar and until seven other clubs go to eat them up.

Well, the Grate and breezing along in front and look certain to top Cincinnati, picked by many to best the Giants and be in the cities by failed. When Grate Alexander busted his wrist the Cubs had an awful blip. The Patsies pulled up, but they don't seem to have the stuff to win against the Grates.

On form, the Giants were beaten when the ump yelled "Play ball!" April Cincinnati had the call. Then, in stepped Lady Luck. When fate begins to give a ball team a kick in the seat of the pants, the only refuge is stoic pride. If there was any bitterness it's lost, then deleted. Pelt me over, didn't get it, was being saved up for the presidential tree. Pitchers were strong, infielder stayed home, a black cat attended every game and sat on the Red bench.

The fact is that both the motoring and cycling public in the so-called "national game" on in recent Sunday with the Browns is opponents. The Yanks played, under a few stars, to no one as many as could fit a full seat.

The links were too dry, the tennis courts had hard waiting lines and the country roads were thick with everything from lords down to the most expensive competition.

It may be this was in the Yank and it may not fit the stadium and it may not fit the stadium. Put me in the corner to have a new running golf course that will give more than a drive to prevent us from some of these day games. Semi-public golf courses will be a pleasure in and around the big city, a run out of town, and it's time that they, they will all be used.

districts throughout the United States. Upon receipt of the preliminary instructions Collector Bass states that his office began immediately on this work, although it was at the time of the June 15th quarter, and that when final procedure had been arrived at and upon receipt of same on Monday, June 30th, immediately began the completion of the lists, getting off 2,000 items to the Department the next day, July 1st, and finishing the entire number of 30,000 items Saturday, July 19th. His office received 1800 from the Bureau yesterday, approved, and checks have gone out to cover. He expects to get all refunds out within the very near future. After this is completed the matter of credits on accounts not paid in full will be handled prior to September 1st so that the taxpayers may get the benefit thereof and receive a correct bill for the September 15th quarterly payment.

Collector Bass was much pleased by the service given these taxpayers by his office and the Treasury Department. He stated that the taxpayers might not appreciate the effort required on the part of the Collector's office force to handle this matter so promptly but in keeping with the desire of the Treasury Department to make this refund promptly his force worked overtime and at night to accomplish it.

Tonsils and Adenoids

Letter No. 6

Giving the Child a Better Chance.

IS YOUR CHILD HANDICAPPED?

Does your child's nose run or is it sore? Does the child snuffle?

Are the eyes red? Are there sores or eczema around the nose and mouth?

Does the child seem dull? Does it stand and look at you with open mouth?

Does it put its hands to its head as though it had earache? Does it take cold easily?

Does the child sleep with its mouth open? Does it snore?

If the answer to any of these is Yes, ask the doctor if the child has adenoids or large tonsils.

Tonsils

Tonsils often become diseased and stick out into the throat. Sometimes they do not get any larger but become diseased and contain little cups filled with infection. These diseased tonsils often hold poisonous germs which may cause throat trouble or may be carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness.

Adenoids

Adenoids look like a little head of cauliflower, colored red. They grow in the back part of the throat where the nose and throat join, and can be seen only by the doctor with a special mirror. They stop up the nose and make the child breathe through its mouth.

When the child breathes through the mouth, much dust and many germs get into the body.

Adenoids should always be removed.

Earache

Earache often means that the child has adenoids. Earache always means that the child is in danger of getting deaf. Also the child is in danger of getting a running ear and there is danger of the disease reaching the brain. A running ear should always be treated by an ear doctor, it will not get well without good care.

Large Glands

Often poison gathers in the nose, mouth or ear. The glands of the body try to carry this poison away. This over work makes the glands enlarge and lumps often form.

Other Diseases

Diseased tonsils and adenoids hold poisonous germs which frequently are carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness. Rheumatism and heart disease often come in this way. These germs also cause stomach, bowel or lung disease.

A child with adenoids and diseased tonsils can get diphtheria, malarial fever, measles and whooping cough very easily. Such a child will have the disease worse than a child who has had adenoids and diseased tonsils removed.

Stupid Children

Often children who seem stupid and who do not learn rapidly can be made healthy and normal by the removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids.

It is wrong to blame children for "tinkers" when they cannot eat, see or smell properly or are suffering from pains from disease on its or adenoid.

Have Them Removed

Adenoids and diseased tonsils can be removed at any time of the year but wait, thinking they will get better. It is dangerous. The child may lose its hearing if you put it off.

Watch carefully for the danger of mouth breathing and earache. Always go to a good doctor at once.

You will be glad to make an appointment and explain in detail.

TOM GIBBONS MAKING REAL HIT IN ENGLAND

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 31.—Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul fighter, is treating a furore in England. Tom is to meet Jack Bloomfield on August 9. They are betting 5 to 1 that the American will win. Tom is endeavoring himself in the hearts of the Englishmen, and he has displaced Georges Carpenter, French idol, as the favorite foreign fighter.

The English have made Tom very comfortable. He is training in the exclusive London Country Club, where he has luxurious quarters and liveried lackies at his command. What a contrast to the training quarters in Montana, where Tom prepared a year ago for his championship go with Jack Dempsey.

TOT, 3, GETS MEDAL FOR SAVING ANOTHER'S LIFE

(By International News Service)

MASSENA, N. Y., July 31.—For bravery in saving the life of three-year-old William Ward, who fell into the Raquette River on the morning of March 20, Dorothy Olive Feden, else three, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Feden, today is the recipient of a bronze hero medal.

The presentation was made, on behalf of the St. Louis Hero Commission, by Rev. F. O. Cunningham.

William fell into the river through the ice while walking across, accompanied by Dorothy and her five-year-old brother. The brother ran away, but Dorothy reached down and helped her playmate out.

Though she was brave enough in the face of danger, Dorothy was saved by the crowd when her name was called to receive the medal, and her mother had to lead her to the platform.

PALESTINE WINS IN GAME WITH GROESBECK GOATS

The fast Palestine baseball team defeated the Groesbeck Goats at Nowlin Park Friday afternoon 6 to 1. The Palestine team is composed of a number of college players and it is a fast aggregation.

Polvogt, a little right hander, was in the box for the East Texas boys and he pitched superb ball allowing the Goats but four hits, two of these coming in the ninth inning after one was down. The first was in the second inning and the other in the third. Polvogt struck out six men.

Clarence Tiner was in the box for the Goats and whiffed eight men. He was touched for twelve hits, three coming in the ninth when the Palestine boys scored four runs.

Dewy Smalley, former Texas third baseman, and playing third for Palestine was the hitting hero of the day with three singles and a triple in five times at bat. Charles Swartz and H. Williamson also hit well, Swartz getting three singles and Williamson getting two singles and a two-base hit.

Sniper Connally, manager of the Goats, an old Baylor star, playing centerfield for the Goats turned in one of the prettiest catches ever witnessed at Nowlin Park. In the eighth inning with two men on base, Ferguson, hit a long high fly to right center which Connally finally got under in time to snare it from over his head and then fell headlong against the fence. But he held the ball, thus retiring the side.

Manager Connally stated that they were likely to play a game or two here with the Mart Maulers some time next week but no announcements would be made to that effect.

SPORT LIGHTS

The Mexia High School football team this year bids fair to be the best squad put out here in years. Coach Ernest Poteet is looking forward to a big year with fine support from the start.

The State meet in football this year is divided into Classes A and B. Mexia is in the latter class. By this classification, Mexia and other schools of similar size, under 350 students, will not be required to meet class A teams until through practice and preparations they are ready to face the teams from bigger schools.

Falls, Milam and Robertson counties are thinking about going in "cohorts" and hiring a Boy Scout Executive Secretary to give his full time to the training of Scouts in all their many qualities. Why couldn't Limestone make a fourth county to get in with the three mentioned and put it across. It'll take a little money to do it, but the fund will grow in boys far more rapidly than in bank deposit in pockets where the wife can get to it.

Westminster College football is looking up. Some of the big games on the schedule of the college should play in Gusser park. That school is as close to Mexia proper as S. M. U. is to a down town fan in Dallas. Coach Lewis has the assurance of a big lot of new and old material.

The Groesbeck Goats and the Mart Maulers are running neck and neck for nose and nose for the flag in the News-Tribune contest. The chances are

Olympic Games May Threaten World Peace

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Conceived in the most laudable spirit of friendly international athletic rivalry, the Olympic Games are surely not going to end in discord.

Yet that is what some folks, returning from Paris, predict.

The turbulent scenes of disorder, which marred conclusion of many of the contests at this year's games, the free fights, challenges to duels, unscrupulous conduct on the part of spectators, disregard of the ordinary standards of hospitality and other regrettable incidents of the 8th Olympiad have given rise to grave concern and raised the question: Are the games a good thing after all?

Disturbances which might well have resulted more seriously than in the duds, which, by the way, did not occur, have caused British sportsmen, for one group, to consider the advisability of further participation in the quadrennial sports. It has even been suggested that outbreaks of fighting on the athletic field jeopardize world peace.

The Americans, for their part, bear the brunt of much hostility with most commendable calm. There were times when it seemed as though the crowds were being deliberately stirred against them. This was the incident during the tennis matches when our men's and women's teams had actually to threaten to withdraw unless "civilized" accommodations were provided. There was the conduct of the spectators which, allowing for a perfectly natural patriotic fervor, went beyond the bounds of all reason in a display of contempt towards our men and women.

We were not the only ones to suffer in this respect. So disgraceful was the conduct of the French spectators at the semi-finals doubles match in which Bremon and Czechoslovakian defeated Coulon and Richardson of South Africa that the officials were forced to have the players finish the match outside the stadium.

The Italian fencers, on two occasions, withdrew in white heat from competition, slinging their Fasces home. On another, they were reportedly close to threatening to bring their "black shirts" and capture their Hungarian opponents and force them to swallow easter egg, the favorite entree prepared by their kind.

The boxing at the Velodrome d'Orsay ended amid turbulence, with a French boxer biting his British opponent severely in the chest and the spectators trying to drown with catcalls and jeers the singing of the British national anthem.

This incident of the fist fight between the French and American boxers is under way to look back upon.

The main thought yesterday was that the people seemed to have adjusted to Paris. Nothing to compare in intensity of the trouble, having regard to their origins in the World War, the correspondent, is nevertheless, forced to admit that the French people were not in the proper mood this year to act as hosts for an assemblage of this kind. National hatreds have lived longer with the French, for excellent reasons, than with other nations. Under the guidance of Poincare and the Blue National, not long enough out of office for their influence to have died, suspicion is a trait in the front of many a Frenchman's intellect. Resentment over their inability to conquer in sport as they conceived themselves to have conquered in war is another. Particularly did they resent America's obvious supremacy, and this resentment expressed itself in prejudice and partiality against our teams.

All this, of course, is over now, and there would be no need to bring it up if the question of the advisability of having any more Olympic Games were not being discussed seriously. As for the effect that the treatment accorded our athletes had upon their showing they scored more than twice as many points as any other nation—France being second, by the way—and our teams are returning with about all the trophies they can carry.

RAIN IS NEEDED ON FARMS OF LIMESTONE COUNTY

There seems no doubt that a general rain over this section of Texas would be of vast benefit to crops generally. The continued dry spell has hurt cotton and corn. In some parts, however, it is declared that a rain would be of doubtful value, as a wet spell might bring the leaf worm, boll weevil and other wet season pests that invade farm lands.

There was a time when an humorous character resided in these parts who would remark after a rain breaking up a dry spell that he was sure that rain had been worth at least five hundred dollars to Limestone county. It is generally conceded that a rain now in this section would add much more than that to the pocket books of surrounding farmers.

Conyers Is Honor Guest At Affair By His Townsmen

I. N. Conyers, for many years of Marlin and who has been engaged in business in Mexia for the past several years, was tendered a smoker recently by his fellow townsmen at Marlin. He and his family are to leave for Robstown which they will make their future home. Due to the many friends Mr. Conyers has in Mexia and through out this section, the following will prove interesting, as taken from The Marlin Democrat in regard to the affair in his honor:

"Presiding as chairman of the meeting, Frank Oltorf declared no individual had brought more business to Marlin than Mr. Conyers. He referred to the scrupulous honesty of the man, declaring farmers were willing to pay Conyers more money for horses, mules, feed and seed because they knew they would get a square deal. Mr. Oltorf said that as Mr. Conyers' attorney, he had found him straightforward in his dealings with others and never desiring to shade a case in his favor."

Dr. S. P. Rice referred to Mr. Conyers, coming to Marlin some 20 years ago as a horse trader. He cited the expansion of his business as proof of his ability. Dr. Rice also called attention to the fact that Mr. Conyers had reared a splendid family in Marlin, in the course of which one of his boys, Douglas Conyers, served overseas with the American Expeditionary Forces during the world war.

"Any farming community would be fortunate to secure a man like Mr. Conyers," said J. C. Holloway. "Not only Marlin, but all Fannin county will miss him. It meant something to the farmers to know that they could bring a mule, a cow, or a load of feed to Marlin and get what it was worth. The departure of Mr. Conyers is going to make itself felt on my business and others as well as in his particular line."

"The working people of this section will miss Mr. Conyers," said Lloyd Johnson. "He was their friend and had been a great worker."

J. E. Coleman said his association with Mr. Conyers in both business and in the personal affairs of life had been most pleasant.

A tribute to Mr. Conyers as a business man was paid by J. W. Lockridge, who had been associated with him in this capacity.

The regret of the citizenship of Marlin in general over the departure of Mr. Conyers was expressed by Raymond Bennett, who said the best wishes of the community would go with him in his new field.

Mr. Conyers responded to the talk in a fitting manner. He expressed regret at having to leave "old Marlin," adding that he was not "burning any bridges behind him," and that he would be back from time to time."

HOME DRESSMAKING

By JEANNE ROLAND
(Copyright 1924 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

A Model for Cotton, Wool or Silk

Smart Frock in Cut-Out Effect

Plaits, the deeply cut neck and armholes and side-closing waist are details enough to enumerate to prove the smartness of this youthful frock from Paris. It is suitable to develop in gingham, wool crepe, silk or velvet.

To develop this dress in materials which are now wearable and which will be fashionable later on, wool crepe might be suggested because it is both smart and inexpensive. For the blouse, crepe de chine could be used. Two tones of one color could be used for the dress and blouse, or a combination of colors such as navy blue and beige or dark brown and tan. For a girl of ten years of age the model calls for 2 yards of material 36 inches wide for the dress and 1 1/2 yards crepe for the blouse.

A pleasing detail of the blouse is the trimming of tiny self-frills stitched about the collar, cuffs and down the front. The diagram shows how the cuff is made and turned back after the ruffle has been set in.

To make the cuff, cut two strips of material the same size. Have the plaiting ready and sew it to the upper part of the cuff. Turn to the reverse side, then take the under side of the cuff and sew to the lower edge of the sleeve, as shown in the diagram. This sewing may be done with fine hemming stitches, or it may be done on the machine. The skirt is laid in a wide box plait at the front, with smaller plait at the side. If preferred, however, it may be gathered and attached to the lower edge of the waist. The waist is bound with silk braid that corresponds in color with the blouse.

Velvet and velveteen are going to be very fashionable for school modes for girls. Velveteen wears exceedingly well and is dressy. Combined with the colorful silks, nothing is smarter.

LIMESTONE DEMOCRATS HOLD STORMY SESSION

YANK FLIER ERIC SMITH GOING IT ALONE BOUND FOR NORTH

ABOARD U. S. CRUISER RICHMOND, ORKNEY ISLANDS, Aug. 2.—Lieutenant Eric C. Nelson, missing American round the world flier, has been sighted off Fargo Islands by the torpedo boat Billingsley. The Billingsley radioed the Richmond that Nelson flew over Faroes at 12:50 Greenwich time, speeding toward Iceland, apparently determined to continue the flight alone. The weather was cleared and conditions ahead favorable. Nelson is accompanied by Mechanic Harding.

KIRKWALL, Orkney Islands, Aug. 2.—Lieut. Erick Nelson of the American around the world flight was winging his way toward Iceland alone today after becoming separated from his flying mates in a fog 25 miles out of Houton Bay, off Kirkwall.

Lieut. Lowell Smith, commander of the flight and Lieut. Leigh Wade decided to return to Houton Bay when they lost Nelson in the dense mist which hung over the north Atlantic.

The commander and Wade flew back over Kirkwall at 10:15 a. m. and circled over Houton Bay to their landing buoys.

Meantime the U. S. Cruiser Richmond, which had cheered the fliers departure, put out to sea under full steam to race in the wake of the speeding Nelson and render him assistance if it is needed.

The Richmond sent out hurried radios to the torpedo boat destroyers Reid and Billingsley warning them that Nelson was on his way alone and asking that a close lookout be kept for him.

The two ships previously had taken up positions along the route of the flyers from Houton Bay to Hornafjord, Iceland.

WEATHER WAS FINE FOR FLIERS HOP SATURDAY

BOARD U. S. S. RICHMOND, OFF KIRKWALL, ORKNEY ISLAND, Aug. 2.—When America's round the world fliers took off on their 550-mile jump to Iceland at 9:30 a. m. today the weather here was fair.

Fog, which had held the world airmen prisoners in Houton bay for two days after their successful flight from Brough, England lifted during the night and the three big planes, riding gracefully at their buoy anchors were made ready at daybreak.

There was a great roaring of motors and testing, a final inspection and then an anxious wait for radio messages from the torpedo boat destroyers, Reid and Billingsley—lay for reports on the weather along the course.

Finally, the radio man on the Richmond called out and a group of officers gathered round as he handed over the message "favorable."

"Fifteen miles visibility" the Reid shot through a minute later and then the same word came from the Billingsley.

It was then 6 a. m. and the airmen decided to take off at 8 o'clock.

Final preparations were not completed until after 9, however, and it was 9:29 when the signal to take off was given.

Lieut. Lowell Smith in the flagship of the air squadron took the lead, skimming across the bay followed by his two companions, Lieuts. Wade and Nelson.

The three planes took the air practically simultaneously and then soared away to open sea.

Bluejackets on the Richmond sent up a great cheer and the stars and stripes fluttered bravely in the mounting breeze as the big machines winged into the air toward Iceland on the first lay of their final perilous flight to the home land.

All the airmen were confident as they hustled about their preparations this morning and after hearty breakfasts.

"It may be a hard flight" said Lieut. Smith "but I don't think we will encounter the difficulties we experienced in Alaska and the Aleutians."

Some icebergs was reported along the route but it was not anticipated they would cause trouble.

Allied Conference Making Rapid Strides Toward Settlement

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The allied conference here moved rapidly toward its goal of putting the Dawes program into execution, thus providing the machinery for general European settlement of the reparations problem. The plenary session agreed on an invitation to Germany to send delegates to a conference and the invitation was telegraphed to Berlin later in the afternoon by the German ambassador. It was understood that the allied message was a simple request that Germany send representatives.

BIG SEVEN BEGAN WORK ON TEXT INVITATION TO HUNS

By LLOYD ALLEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The plenary session of the allied conference here today reached an agreement to forward an invitation to Germany at once to send delegates to the conference, according to authoritative information.

Sources close to the conferences were optimistic, indicating an agreement had been reached and that the tangled German reparations question finally is well on the way to the settlement through application of the program of the committee of experts headed by Dawes of the United States.

The conference accepted the reports of its first and third committees today.

The invitation to Germany probably will be sent to Berlin this afternoon and the Germans delegates will start immediately for London to agree to the new program. The German government already declared itself in favor of the Dawes program in principle.

The plenary session lasted two and one half hours and it was understood the conference reached agreement on a majority of the questions at issue, accepting the French proposals in all essentials.

The "big seven" began consideration of the text of the invitation to Germany at once and expected the German representatives would arrive here Tuesday. This might make possible completion of the conference next week.

"Nothing found upon which they could base a complaint," it was said.

Borrowed Gun From Dealer; Killed Self

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 2.—M. G. Langhorne, Henderson, Texas, committed suicide here late yesterday in a hardware store while a cork was showing him a revolver.

Langhorne entered the shop and asked to see a revolver. The clerk laid a heavy-calibre revolver on the counter and the customer asked for some cartridges. Langhorne slipped a cartridge in the gun, raised it to his head and pulled the trigger, dying instantly. Identification was made through papers found in his pockets.

NO sooner was the "unconscious" man left alone in a room at the hospital, than he leaped out of the window, wearing only his nightclothes, jumped into a passing automobile, and made good his escape.

CROWE LOSES FOR SECOND TIME IN LEOPOLD-LOEB CASE

CRIMINAL COURT, Chicago, Aug. 2.—States Attorney Robert Crowe today failed for the second time to force the mental condition of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb before a jury while examining Dr. William White, alienist, who appeared in defense of the youths who murdered Robert Franks. Crowe attempted to force the witness to state whether in his opinion the boys were insane. The defense objected and Justice Caverly sustained the objection. Other similar moves were repudiated.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CRIMINAL COURT, Chicago, Aug. 2.—Playing his cards with the sureness of a master, Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney in the Leopold-Loeb murder case, is awaiting an opportunity to make a surprise play and rest his case. Darrow feels that his efforts have been so effective thus far that he may not be forced to play out the entire hand as planned.

A new surprise move is expected—a move that will bring the defense case to an abrupt termination. Defense attorneys made it known earlier that plans called for the introduction of evidence by numerous alienists, members of the Leopold and Loeb families, close friends, acquaintances—including boys and girls—and perhaps the boys themselves. The witnesses were to go into the history of the boys and perhaps go even further.

But Darrow, keen observer and crafty player, feels elated with his work thus far, and it was made known he feels he does not have to extend much more force to win the victory—the victory being to have Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb sentenced to life in prison.

Several defense alienists remain to testify after Dr. William A. White, Washington, concludes his testimony. Whether Darrow will place more than another one on the stand depends on how he interprets the mood of the court. At present Darrow feels he has established his point—that the youths were not wholly responsible for their crime.

Darrow also believes he has produced sufficient evidence to compel "mitigation of punishment" and observers are inclined to the belief he will bring his case to a close with the same abruptness that he entered his plea of guilty to the murder.

Dr. White's testimony, or rather lecture, on the mental and emotional histories of the boys was easily the most sensational yet produced at the judicial hearing. In a recital crammed with sensation, Dr. White brought out that "Loeb's objective in the killing was to make it the 'perfect crime.'"

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 2.—Roy Ruber, 9, was killed and his companion, John Dawson Jr. and W. T. Green, a teamster were injured when a Kansas City Southern passenger train crashed into a wagon on a grade crossing here. The boys were "hooking" a ride.

HAILSTORM AT ABILENE

ABILENE, Kan., Aug. 2.—Damage approximating $50,000 was done by a terrific hail storm which swept this section late Friday. Skylights, windows and automobile tops were wrecked by the hail stones, some of which were two inches in diameter. Crops were damaged over hundreds of acres.

POLITICAL CHATS

Citizens of Mexia and poltax payers. You well know that you can vote as you please for the man or woman that you want as your public servant in the various offices for state and county, so go to the polls and gratify that wish that you paid $1.75 to do. If you are not a politician and not looking for pie, why should you worry?

When the election is over you will have to lock to one another for your living support, as you have in the past. As none of these in control in the past and none in the future, will help the man on the street tearing his shirt sleeves off for him. You are only making a fool out of yourself and losing your prestige in your own community. So why be a fool for others. Be calm and vote as you please and let others do likewise.

A Voter.

FERGUSON FORCES FAIL TO CONTROL DELEGATES ASSEMBLED AT GROESBECK

"What stronger breast plate than a house unpainted.. Thrice is he armed that hath his quarrel just. And he but naked though locked up in steel, whose conscience with injustice is corrupted."

The Limestone County Democratic Convention was called to order in the 7th Judicial District Court room in the Court House at Groesbeck by County Chairman E. A. Allen Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

The convention opened in a storm but closed with the surface of the political waters apparently as placid as if they had never been ruffled by the winds of discussion and debate.

The opening tilt begun when the question was raised as to how the convention was to vote, whether the convention would heed the ballots of duly accredited delegates or whether the bars should be let down and permission granted to everyone present who claimed he was entitled to vote to have a voice and vote in the convention. Dr. R. B. Jackson, in a fiery address made a plea that the convention be conducted as it had always been conducted and that every democrat who had presented himself to the convention as a delegate should be permitted to vote and be given an honor seat as a genuine democrat. Filled with the humor that characterizes his usual address, the convention was soon agog with excitement, and the battle lines began to be drawn when Ben B. Hunt of Mexia also took issue with the doctor, stating that the law should be followed and that none but accredited delegates should be seated.

Mr. Allen urged the Terrell election law to be applied and stated that a ruling from the Attorney General's Department clearly set forth that only duly accredited delegates elected in precinct conventions should be seated in the temporary organizations. Bob Hanna of Groesbeck urged that all who applied for admission should be seated as delegates. Mr. Allen ruled that only duly accredited delegates elected in precinct conventions held on the date specified by the law should have a vote in the convention, sustaining the plea of Mr. Hunt.

The question then before the house was the selection of a temporary chairman. Mr. Hunt placed in nomination A. Garland Adair, whom he described as a young man but one who was loyal to the party and who would ably preside over the deliberations with credit and fairness to the democracy of the county. Bob Hanna then placed in nomination the name of Hon. W. T. Jackson of Groesbeck, paying a tribute to the nominee and stating that Mr. Jackson was a veteran Limestone County Democrat and one whom they all knew.

The vote was taken by roll call and the results gave Mr. Adair 38 votes while Judge Jackson was given 26.

Mr. Allen appointed Ben Hunt and Tom McLendon, who has been in the county since 1878, to escort Mr. Adair to the chair as temporary presiding officer.

Mr. Adair spoke briefly, sounding the keynote of the convention. He said in part:

"My friends, it is with much embarrassment that I must admit that many of you ladies and gentlemen here assembled do not know me. I wish to assure you that my heart is wrapped up with the best interests of Limestone County. I have resided in the county only four years but hope, God permitting, to live with you much longer. We

High-Up Weather Station at Banff Attracts Many Visitors

On one of the nine peaks of Sulphur Mountain, that stretch over a distance of seven miles and reach a maximum altitude of 8,030 feet at Banff in the Canadian Rockies, stands a stanch 12-foot square hut. It is built of stone with foundations sunk deep into the mountain top, for it must withstand terrific winds, gales of from between forty and sixty miles an hour are common on top of Mt. Sulphur. On its roof is a spidery, steel tower from which observations are taken.

For twenty years this station has been in charge of N. B. Sanson, meteorologist, who faithfully chronicled records of the weather on the mountains and in the surrounding valleys. This twenty years has been replete with interesting experiences, some of them grueling. Mr. Sanson is a naturalist too, and the Banff Museum contains specimens of almost every bird, beast, reptile, insect, plant and mineral that exists in the district, all collected by him.

He has kept a diary through the years and it is filled with fascinating observations on grouse, rabbits, bear, mountain goats and on strange flowers and lichens. On Sept. 4th he picked strawberries near the mountain's top, and once, in the dead of winter with the mercury at 20 below zero, he found two snow spiders walking on the snow. They had spun webs over the hollows made by a man's footprints in the snow and there they entrapped snow-flies.

Guests at Banff will find this high-up hut and its devoted attendant, a most interesting excursion. Three-fourths of the distance may be made by pony. Scientists, geologists, botanists and nature lovers, delight in listening to Mr. Sanson relate anecdotes incident to life on Banff's look-out. The view from this point is unusually thrilling, a wide vista spreading far in every direction. Mr. Sanson is also a noted Alpinist and has climbed practically all the peaks in his district.

This is one of the unusual things to do at Banff, another is to bathe in the Government and Banff Springs Hotel glass-enclosed swimming pools that are constantly replenished by hot sulphur water sent up from subterranean springs under Sulphur Mountain. Outdoor bathing is enjoyed twelve months in the year. Another unique sport is that afforded by the Government Golf Course laid out along the Bow River among great mountains and often cloud-enshrouded.

Costumes This Fall Are Featuring Spanish Influence

The long beltless tunics hold their strong position; fringe and sash stimulate the Spanish effect. Incongruously the silhouette retains its Indo-Chinese characteristic. It is either a long tube, or it is a tube with the combodgian flare, added at the hip to stop at the knee or added at the knee to stop at the hem. This flare is achieved by godets inserted at intervals, pie shaped pieces with point at top or by circular set on sections.

In dresses black is foremost for day wear. Severely plain frocks of satin crepe and nanette Lustre Crepe Satin. Among the wools, plain styles are shown in Kasha and Rep, oddly enough, dark blue the accepted color where rep is employed and is frequently combined with red. Red is much used with black in restrained touches.

Coat styles of dresses in wool and crepe, show a diagonal closing with buttons, fastened at left hip and tailored long sleeves with gauntlet cuffs or the buttoned band running up back of arm for several inches. The models are plain, sometimes with and sometimes without collars.

Fringe is featured prominently. It appears in tired effects in diagonal treatments, to weight scarfs and tunics, and in many ways it strikes the Spanish cord in fashions. A single heavy silk tassel is a note frequently observed in crepe dresses and even coats.

The dress materials of the season deserving emphasis are velvet including artificial and printed varieties, crepe satin and artificial satin and all the corded silks such as faille, poplin and ottoman. Among the crepes are crepe de chine, romaine, maracoin, georgette and nanette. Wool dress fabrics stress kasha, rep and fine twills. For evening there is velvet and satin, net, beaded or embroidered tulle, metal cloth, and brocades, in lace silver and gold flounces.

THE NEW IN HATS

Very small high crowned shapes with narrow rolled or straight brims shorter at the back than the front. The Spanish influence is emphasized and is featured in the high, flat crowned type of hat with straight sailor brim. These hats are trimmed with a band of gorsprain or ribbon velvet occasionally caught by a nickel or pearl buckle.

Felt reigns supreme and is used in every shade on the color card. Brown however takes precedence. The new brown is a soft new shade of chestnut. In addition, the light pinkish tones of cinnamon are endorsed.

Trimmings are less and less in vogue and practically all the hats are now featured inconspicuously trimmed with fancy bands. A tuft of wings or a single flower, ribbons, ostrich fantasies, appliques of cut felt, self trimming in velvet ornamental pins, novel animal motifs in nickel, enamel and crystal are featured.

Great Evangelistic Party Coming to Mexia Christian Church

The Vawter Evangelistic Company

C. R. L. Vawter is one of our best known evangelists. For sixteen years he has been holding revival meetings all over the United States, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. Has had as many as 500 additions in a single church meeting. Especially does he appeal to men because of his logical reasoning power. Throughout his sermons his Irish wit is in evidence, and his sermons are intensely interesting. The musical party will add much to the services. They have a four and one-half octave Marimba-Xylophone and a set of Organ Chimes. The biggest and showiest instrument in the evangelistic field. They surely command the attention of the public. This meeting will begin early in September and continue about three weeks. Further announcement will be made later.

the successful candidates for governor and the other for the other candidate to be voted on in the approaching primary. The chair listened to arguments on both sides of the substitute and then ruled Mr. Hanna out of order, stating that according to the convention system of the Democratic party the delegation committee would make only one report and then if someone desired to substitute another list that that would be the proper way to get the subject before the house.

As to the delegation committee, the chair stated that every delegation seeking a seat in the convention should submit its statement and credentials to the credentials committee, giving the deliberative body an opportunity to pass on the question and thus expedite matters considerably, assuring justice and fair play to all.

An amendment was then offered to the motion that the chair also appoint a committee of three on permanent organization.

The motion as amended prevailed with the opposition remaining silent.

The committees appointed were as follows:

Resolutions: Owen F. Watkins, W. P. Alexander and H. H. Alexander; Delegation: Albert H. Berry, E. A. Allen and J. D. McElroy; Credentials: Tom L. Cox, C. W. Moody and Steve F. Collins; Permanent Organization: L. S. Suttle, W. C. Cook and T. J. Cole.

The committees were instructed to meet at once in rooms in the court house, following which a motion prevailed to adjourn until one o'clock.

The hour was spent with both sides working among the delegates to sound out how they stood on what had been done. When the convention reassembled at one o'clock, it was apparent from the outset that friends had been gained by the eloquent address of Ben B. Hunt, who had served as floor leader for the majority in all the deliberations of the body.

The motion to adopt the credentials committee report was then put to a vote and carried without question.

The committee on delegates to the State Convention submitted its report through A. H. Berry. At the conclusion of the report, Bob Hanna arose and stated that only one Ferguson supporter was on the list.

The convention met with the feeling that a real tilt was to feature the afternoon session. The chair called for report from the committee on permanent organization. The committee recommended that the temporary chairman and secretary be made permanent. The motion prevailed with the opposition remaining silent when the vote on the negative was put, L. S. Suttle placing the motion before the house.

The chair then thanked the body for the confidence reposed in him and stated that he hoped that the deliberations of the convention would remain free from bitterness and that all would remember that they had come to represent and serve the best interests of the Democratic party, which sentiment he was sure was concurred in by the delegates present.

He called for a report from the committee on credentials. The report was made by Tom L. Cox. Since Kosse was not listed with the accredited delegates, Jim Bradley moved that the delegation from that point be seated. The chair asked the credentials committee whether Kosse had presented credentials to them.

Mr. Cox, replying for the committee, stated that none had been presented. A delegate from New Hope then was recognized stating that he was there without any credentials and that if Kosse was seated, every box in the county that had not held a precinct convention would be entitled to a seat but that he thought that the principle of protesting conventions by the law should be followed. The chair ruled Mr. Bradley's motion out of order, stating that he had a wire from the attorney general's office stating that only duly elected delegates in properly held precinct conventions should be seated and have a vote. Bob Hanna then appealed from the ruling of the chair. The question was raised if there was not a motion before the house, and the chair ruled that there was such a motion but that a motion to overrule the chair was always in order and took precedence over whatever motion was before the body. Jim Bradley stated that it was not a matter of law, that the convention was the law in the matter and that it had a right to seat anyone it desired. Dr. Jackson also urged that anyone who wanted a seat in the Convention, if he was a true Democrat, that he should be seated and that no one wanted to violate the law but that all wanted fair play to Kosse democrats and to all other Democrats in the county.

Bob Hanna also spoke to his appeal from the chair. The chair stated that he had ruled the motion of Judge Bradley out of order, in view of the ruling from the office of the Attorney General and also anticipating the motion to overrule his decision, which would place the subject squarely before the convention. Mr. Hanna stated that he had always stood for clean government, which provoked laughter among those present. Mr. Hanna then challenged anyone to point out where he had not shown himself a friend of clean government and offered $10 to anyone who would show him a single instance of where he had done questionable deed in politics. He started a defense of himself, but was quickly overruled by the chair and instructed to discuss the question before the house. The motion to overrule the chairman was put before the house on a roll call vote. The chair was overwhelmingly sustained by a vote of 42 to 27, a two thirds vote being required to overrule him.

The motion to adopt the credentials committee report was then put to a vote and carried without question.

JACKSONVILLE, Texas, Aug. 2.—Alexander college here, as it has been known for more than half a century, will be known hereafter as the Lon Morris College, according to a scheduled announcement today.

Name of the college was changed to honor the Reverend Alonzo Morris, Pittsburgh, Texas, who endowed the school to the amount of $100,000.

Reverend Morris has also recently made large gifts to the S. M. U. at Dallas and Southwestern university at Georgetown.

JEFFRIES HOLDS SURGEONS AND THE GUSHERS WIN GAME

Nugent was wild, while Jeffries was in great form and held the Surgeons in the pinches. Ned Seely led the Gusher attack with two drives over the right field fence. Jeffries fanned eleven Surgeons and on six different occasions fanned his man for the third out and in the second, third, seventh, eighth and ninth innings struck out two batters when the Surgeons threatened to score. The Gushers will play Temple again Sunday at 3:30 o'clock.

INDUSTRY BEGETS INDUSTRY.

That industry begets industry is reflected in the attitude of folks everywhere following the consummation of some certain hope. For example, the building of a cotton mill in Mexia this year will be just the beginning of a great industry here. After it is built, then there'll be another. At least that's the way Waco looks at it. In the Waco News-Tribune of Saturday, there appeared the following comment:

The people of Waco read with interest the story Friday of the concrete steps taken in preparing to build the new Texas cotton mill at Mexia.

Mexia has had the matter under consideration for a year or more, and now the charter has been granted with a capital stock of $450,000, the plant to manufacture cotton goods. J. K. Hughes, one of the three incorporators mentioned, is one of the 100 directors of the Texas Centennial, having been chosen from the Waco district, and W. V. Crawford is the other director from the district.

People of Mexia showed their faith in the cotton mill industry by putting up the cold cash. Waco just now has an opportunity to land another big cotton mill, and it is believed that the chance will not be neglected. As soon as business men return to Waco from their vacations definite and final action is to be taken.

KIWANIS CLUBS TO WORK FOR VOTE

A vigorous campaign to get all voters to vote in the fall elections is being planned by all the Kiwanis clubs of the country, in accordance with policies which have been adopted by Kiwanis International at a meeting just concluded here.

In 1896 80% of all those eligible voted in the presidential elections; in 1900, 73% voted; in 1908 the percentage decreased to 66%; in 1912 there was a further decrease to 62%; and in 1920 less than 50% of the voters exercised their franchise.

"This campaign," said Victor M. Johnson, newly elected president of Kiwanis International, "will be to urge all citizens to express the desires of the entire people, and not less than half of them. A continuation of the present low voting percentage would certainly lead to the impracticalities and danger of a radical minority. The work of the clubs will be part of our general campaign to promote an intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship."

"There is no partisanship in this campaign, and no fund is being raised to carry it on. Members of each of the 1250 Kiwanis Clubs will work in their communities, purely on a basis of developing this much needed citizenship."

All civic clubs in Limestone County would render a high service by joining with the Kiwanis club in this worthy endeavor.

FARMERS LISTEN TO COUNTY AGENTS.

"There was a time when the county agricultural agent was not regarded as essential. Farmers looked upon him with suspicion," declares the Greenville Banner. His ideas were called "new fangled" and impractical. Many resented any tendency to change them from practices that had been handed down to them from generations back.

Gradually, especially in the prosperous and most progressive counties of this state and nation as well, this attitude has been changed. The farmer sends his sons to an agricultural college in order to make it possible for them to compete with the educated, scientific farmer of tomorrow and they heed the county agent just as they insist upon their own children heading the words of the teachers in school.

The county agent that devotes the majorportion of his time toward teaching the most advanced ideas in farming is sure to render his constituency a valuable service and by him and his efforts home conditions in rural sections will be bettered.

His dilities should be and are generally along extension lines and in distributing information helpful in all fields of farm endeavor.

Limestone County needs such an agent, if she would go forward rapidly and keep apace with the best.

IMMORTAL STORIES FOR YOUTH AND AGE

Children of America lost a dear friend when Palmer Cox passed away. His elfin figures came to be quite well known in the juvenile world, just like the illustrious characters chronicled in Alice of Wonderland, Palace of Oz and other popular children's stories. Cox has departed but he has left his footprints on the sands of time in his Brownie stories. They will live throughout the generations yet unborn when children will still be told of and believe in kingdoms and palaces and other worlds that there is in Christianity itself that conquering power which will make such an undesirable situation impossible. However, it must be said that Christianity unless it is embodied and in a militant state cannot overcome the forces of evil which are to be found on every hand in this day. All impotent and inconsequential Gospel is powerless to cope with the task. The love of leisure that is in itself destructive of some of our highest and most cherished ethical conceptions—is one of the powerful factors shaping the thinking of the day. In spite of all our efforts there yet remains in America a vast portion of the population that is not directly affected by the influence of the Church. The solution of the problem of course is to bring these people more directly under the power of the Gospel and the influence of the Church. Just how that is to be done is of course, the very heart of the problem. But that it must be done it would seem that all will heartily agree.

Professor Joseph A. Leighton, in chapter entitled "The Recrudescence of Paganism," in his book, "Religion and the Mind of Today," gives utterance to these words, which will give pause to every thoughtful reader: "No great civilization has ever outlasted the demise of its religious faith. If the moral bases of our culture are in imminent danger, the danger can be averted only by a new crusade on behalf of social righteousness and personal integrity, animated by a religious view of life. I need not remind you that here the Christian and the Jew stand together on the common ground of a prophetic ethical religion, whose controlling principle of faith and action is the vision of a righteous social order, the Kingdom of God."

In this connection it is not at all out of place to call attention to that homely and neglected doctrine—the doctrine of repentance. The glorious Gospel of the blessed God—as Paul refers to it—is sufficient for the needs of this day, and is the only solvent.

HACK WILSON, OF GIANTS
REAL FIND FOR McGRAW

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Every once in a while a youngster comes into the big league and makes good. This year Hack Wilson, outfielder of the Giants, short and pudgy, but with a pair of shoulders like a wrestler, is the "star" of the National League. Wilson is a fixture. He is at the heels of Rogers Hornsby for batting honors, can field his position like a veteran and is the "spark plug" of the older circuit. Wilson's specialties are three-base hits—very timely hits. McGraw got him from the Virginia League, and he did not cost a fortune, like some of the "flivers" who also tried to graduate from the minors.

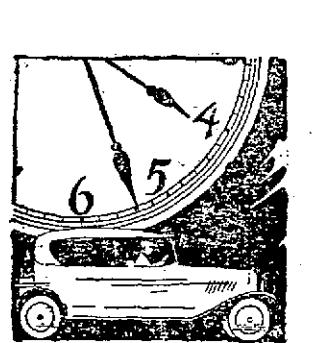

The brain of an elephant is larger than that of a man, but his trunk is smaller than that of a woman.

Simplicity Marks Coolidge's Life; President Keeps His Modest Home In Town Where He Rose to Fame

Simplicity and reserve are outstanding characteristics of "Calvin Coolidge."

Of humble origin, he has risen to the heights along a self-blazed trail, without evidence of pomp or circumstance. Even after he had attained high public office, it was his desire to live modestly as a "plain American" and as an inspiration to those who bear his name.

Always the farmer boy, the nation's Chief Executive retains his keen affection for Vermont's rolling hills and never is he more content than he is at home among his own people.

"Vermont is my birthright," he has said. "Here one gets close to nature, in the mountains, in the brooks, the waters of which hurry to the sea; in the lakes, shining like silver in their green setting; fields tilled not by machinery, but by the brain and hand of man. My folks are happy and contented. They belong to themselves, live within their income and leave no man."

The modesty of Calvin Coolidge has been manifested throughout his career. When he first went from Northampton, Mass., to Boston as an obscure member of the State Legislature, he sought out an inside room on the upper floor of a hotel. There he found the seclusion he loved and the arrangement satisfied his idea of thrift. After his service in the State Legislature, when the citizenry of Massachusetts selected him as a candidate for governor, those who nominated him of his nomination found him in this same unpretentious place.

And after his election the family home in Northampton, half of a modest two-family dwelling, renting for thirty-odd dollars a month, was retained. Officialdom might have been somewhat surprised by this decision.

The good folk of Northampton who had watched the progress of their adopted son were not. The wooden house was good enough for the Governor and Mrs. Coolidge agreed with him.

The folk of Northampton are the President's neighbors. He is jealous of his association with them and the affection is reciprocated. This regard for his people is reflected more eloquently perhaps than in any other way by a letter he wrote to James Lucey, a town cobbler, with whom he often talked before going to Washington the first time. Lucey, whose quaint philosophy often had helped the President, received this word; just after his "Cal" became President:

"Not often do I see you or write you but I want you to know that if it were not for you I should not be here and I want to tell you how much I love you. Do not work too much, now and try to enjoy yourself in your well-earned hours of age."

manager of the Daily Favorite here and Ashley Evans is editor. Mr. Spotts, the principal owner, is devoting much of his attention to the business of the Harbin-Spotts Publishing Company at Richardson.

DENTON—A large crew of workmen is employed in this city by the Texas Power and Light Company constructing the high tension transmission line between Dallas and Bowie where it will connect with the lines of the Wichita Falls Electric Company.

BROWNSVILLE—An electrically operated cotton gin that has been in service here for three years is pointed out by the management to be the first in the lower Rio Grande Valley. A new gin at San Benito was recently referred to as the first electric gin in the valley.

MEXIA—The transmission lines of the Community Power and Light Company are now completed to connect the plants at Marlin and Mexia and several others on the system. Each station served is connected with all the power plants of the company.

Queen Mary is said to be far more economical in the matter of clothes than is generally understood. Periodically she makes a personal inspection of her wardrobe, in order to decide what clothes shall be reserved for wear on subsequent occasions.

When fate ordained that Calvin Coolidge be vested with the Presidency, the White House his official residence, things looked somewhat dubious for the modest home in

Case Of Baseball Vs Golf and Tennis

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—As they come down the back-stretch in the major league baseball races, it begins to look more than ever like the Giants and the Yanks for the world series. And my guess would make the Giants favorites in the big series.

A few weeks ago this column said the Yanks were fading fast, but would probably muster strength enough to pull out and win the 1924 pennant. It still looks that way. Naturally, there is an "if". That is the saving grace in baseball.

Huggins must have luck and comparative freedom from injuries if he gets under the wire ahead. He isn't getting much pitching, but the Yanks pack a terrific punch and the team is hitting again. But a blanket would cover the first four clubs, and Huggins knows that if the Yanks stub their toes, all seven of their competitors will "put the boots" to his noble athletes if they get three points down. And they'll chance a foul, at that.

So much for the Yanks, who, before the season began, were runaway favorites.

The good, old Giants! The experts, April 1, said John McGraw had only an old glove, his personal brain and a hand of "has-beens and never-wases", fitted only for the old folks' home. They turned the Giants loose in the cellar and invited seven other clubs to go eat them up.

Well, the Giants are breezing along in front and look certain to cap Cincinnati, picked by many to beat the Giants and be in the series has failed. When Grover Alexander busted his wrist the Cubs had an awful blow. The Pirates pulled up, but they don't seem to have the stuff to win against the Giants.

On form, the Giants were beaten when the ump yelled: "Play ball!" in April. Cincinnati had the call. Then, in stepped Lady Luck. When fate begins to give a ball team a kick in the seat of the pants, the only refuge is armor-plate. If there was any bad luck that "Jack" Hendricks, Reds manager, didn't get, it was being saved up for the presidential race. Pitchers were wrong, infielders cracked bones, a black cat attended every game and sat on the Reds' bench.

The fact is that golf and the motor-car is increasingly threatening the so-called "national" game. On a recent Sunday, with the Browns as opponents, the Yanks played, under a perfect sky, to almost as many vacant as filled seats.

The links were crowded, the tennis courts had huge waiting lists and the country roads were thick with everything from Ford's fleas to the most expensive importation.

Maybe this was why the Yanks and Browns couldn't fill the stadium. But, meanwhile Cincinnati is to have a new semi-public golf course that will give more thousands a chance to play, not watch. Some of these days public or semi-public golf courses will be as plentiful in and around the big cities as tennis courts are now, and if houses are in the way, they will simply be moved.

tion districts throughout the United States. Upon receipt of the preliminary instructions Collector Bass states that his office began immediately on this work, although it was at the time of the June 15th quarter, and that when final procedure had been arrived at and upon receipt of same on Monday, June 30th, immediately began the completion of the lists, getting off 2,000 items to the Department the next day, July 1st, and finishing the entire number of 30,000 items Saturday, July 19th. His office received 1500 from the Bureau yesterday, approved, and checks have gone out to cover. He expects to get all refunds out within the very near future. After this is completed the matter of credits on accounts not paid in full will be handled prior to September 1st so that the taxpayers may get the benefit thereof and receive a correct bill for the September 15th quarterly payment.

Collector Bass was much pleased by the service given these taxpayers by his office and the Treasury Department. He stated that the taxpayers might not appreciate the effort required on the part of the Collector's office force to handle this matter so promptly but in keeping with the desire of the Treasury Department to make this refund promptly his force made overtime and at night to accomplish it.

Tonsils and Adenoids

Letter No. 6

Giving the Child a Better Chance.

IS YOUR CHILD HANDICAPPED?

Does your child's nose run or is it sore? Does the child snuffle?

Are the eyes red? Are there fever sores or eczema around the nose and mouth?

Does the child seem dull? Does it stand and look at you with open mouth?

Does it put its hands to its head as though it had earache? Does it take cold easily?

Does the child sleep with its mouth open? Does it snore?

If the answer to any of these is Yes, ask the doctor if the child has adenoids or large tonsils.

Tonsils
Tonsils often become diseased and stick out into the throat. Sometimes they do not get any larger but become diseased and contain little cups filled with infection. These diseased tonsils often hold poisonous germs which may cause throat trouble or may be carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness.

Adenoids
Adenoids look like a little head of cauliflower, colored red. They grow in the back part of the throat where the nose and throat join, and can be seen only by the doctor with a special mirror. They stop up the nose and make the child breathe through its mouth.

When the child breathes through the mouth, much dust and many germs get into the body.

Adenoids should always be removed.

Earache

Earache often means that the child has adenoids. Earache always means that the child is in danger of getting deaf. Also the child is in danger of getting a running ear and there is danger of the disease reaching the brain. A running ear should always be treated by an ear doctor, it will not get well without good care.

Large Glands

Often poison gathers in the nose, throat or ears. The glands of the neck try to carry this poison away. This overwork makes the glands enlarge and lumps often form.

Other Diseases

Diseased tonsils and adenoids hold poisonous germs which frequently are carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness. Rheumatism and heart disease often come in this way. These germs also cause stomach, bowel or lung diseases.

A child with adenoids and diseased tonsils can get diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough very easily. Such a child will have the disease worse than a child who has had adenoids and diseased tonsils removed.

Stupid Children

Often children who seem stupid and who do not learn rapidly can be made healthy and normal by the removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids.

It is wrong to blame children for backwardness when they cannot hear, see or smell properly or are suffering from pains from diseased tonsils or adenoids.

Have Them Removed
Adenoids and diseased tonsils can be removed at any time of the year. Don't wait, thinking they will get better. It is dangerous. The child may lose its hearing if you put it off.

Watch carefully for the danger signals—mouth breathing and earache.

Always go to a good doctor at once.

Will be glad to make examination and explain in detail.

TOM GIBBONS MAKING REAL HIT IN ENGLAND

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 31.—Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul fighter, is creating a furor in England. Tom is to meet Jack Bloomfield on August 9. They are betting 5 to 1 that the American will win. Tom is endeavoring himself to the hearts of the Englishmen, and he has displaced Georges Carpentier, French idol, as the favorite foreign fighter.

The English have made Tom very comfortable. He is training in the exclusive London Club, where he has luxurious quarters and liveried lackies at his command. What a contrast to the training quarters in Montana, where Tom prepared a year ago for his championship go with Jack Dempsey.

TOT, 3, GETS MEDAL FOR SAVING ANOTHER'S LIFE

(By International News Service)

MASSENA, N. Y., July 31.—For bravery in saving the life of three-year-old William Ward, who fell into the Raquette River on the morning of March 20, Dorothy Olive Peden, also three, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peden, today is the recipient of a bronze hero medal.

The presentation was made, on behalf of a St. Louis Hero Commission, by Rev. F. O. Cunningham.

William fell into the river through the ice while walking across, accompanied by Dorothy and her five-year-old brother. The brother ran away, but Dorothy reached down and helped her playmate out.

Though she was brave enough in the face of danger, Dorothy was awed by the crowd when her name was called to receive the medal, and her mother had to lead her to the platform.

PALESTINE WINS IN GAME WITH GROESBECK GOATS

The fast Palestine baseball team defeated the Groesbeck Goats at Nowlin Park Friday afternoon 6 to 1. The Palestine team is composed of a number of college players and it is a fast aggregation.

Polvogt, a little right hander, was in the box for the East Texas boys and he pitched superb ball allowing the Goats but four hits, two of these coming in the ninth inning after one was down. The first was in the second inning and the other in the third. Polvogt struck out six men.

Clarence Tiner was in the box for the Goats and whiffed eight men. He was touched for twelve hits, three coming in the ninth when the Palestine boys scored four runs.

Dewey Smalley, former Texas third baseman, and playing third for Palestine was the hitting hero of the day with three singles and a triple in five times at bat. Charles Swartz and H. Williamson also hit well, Swartz getting three singles and Williamson getting two singles and a two-base hit.

Sniper Connally, manager of the Goats, an old Baylor star, playing centerfield for the Goats turned in one of the prettiest catches ever witnessed at Nowlin Park. In the eighth inning with two men on base, Ferguson, hit a long high fly to right center which Connally finally got under in time to spear it from over his head and then fell headlong against the fence. But he held the ball, thus retiring the side.

Manager Connally stated that they were likely to play a game or two here with the Mart Maulers some time next week but that announcements would be made to that effect.

SPORT LIGHTS

The Mexia High School football team this year bids fair to be the best squad put out here in years. Coach Ernest Poteet is looking forward to a big year with fine support from the start.

The State meet in football this year is divided into Classes A and B. Mexia is in the latter class. By this classification, Mexia, and other schools of similar size, under 350 students, will not be required to meet Class A teams until through practice and preparations they are ready to face the teams from bigger schools.

Falls, Milam and Robertson counties are thinking about going in "cahoots" and hiring a Boy Scout Executive Secretary to give his full time to the training of Scouts in all their many qualities. Why couldn't Limestone make a fourth county to get in with the three mentioned and put it across. It'll take a little money to do it, but the fund will grow in boys far more rapidly than in bank deposit in your pocket where the wife can get to it.

Westminster College football is looking up. Some of the big games on the schedule of the college should play in Custer park. That school is as close to Mexia proper as S. M. U. is to a downtown fan in Dallas. Coach Lewis has the assurance of a big lot of new and old material.

The Goesbeck Goats and the Mart Maulers are running neck and neck or nose and nose for the flag in the News-Tribune contest. The chances are bright for the Goats to butt the Maulers out of first place. The game is young yet.

Jinx Tucker is giving a lot of the boys here "Jinxits." They are retaliating, however, and he is down with Mexicanitis. He shows a disposition to grow weary of the disease, and his come back Saturday was as laconic as a Mexican General's report of a tilt with Villa. Here's How it Happened in the News-Tribune:

The Mexia Fan Again:

Although out hat seems to have been lost in the mails somewhere between here and Mexia, the Mexia Fan or Another Mexia Fan has popped another question to us. Here is the letter:

Mexia, Texas, July 31. To the Sports Editor:

Since you declare you have won a hat by answering two questions asked by a Mexia fan, and since you seem to take such pleasure in answering them see how easy this one is. Granting that the Waco team is a pretty fair ball club, and granting that the Indians are somewhere around the top, please tell your intelligent readers, especially the fans of Mexia just where the Indians would be today if they had been forced to play all of their Texas association games in Mexia. Yours, H. Stone wins another ball game for you. Another Mexia Fan.

That's also very easy. They would probably be in the hospital.

Politics makes strange bed fellows but baseball has its impossible also. Carl Hill has risen to Rankin Johnson's no hit, no run class, in the Texas Association.

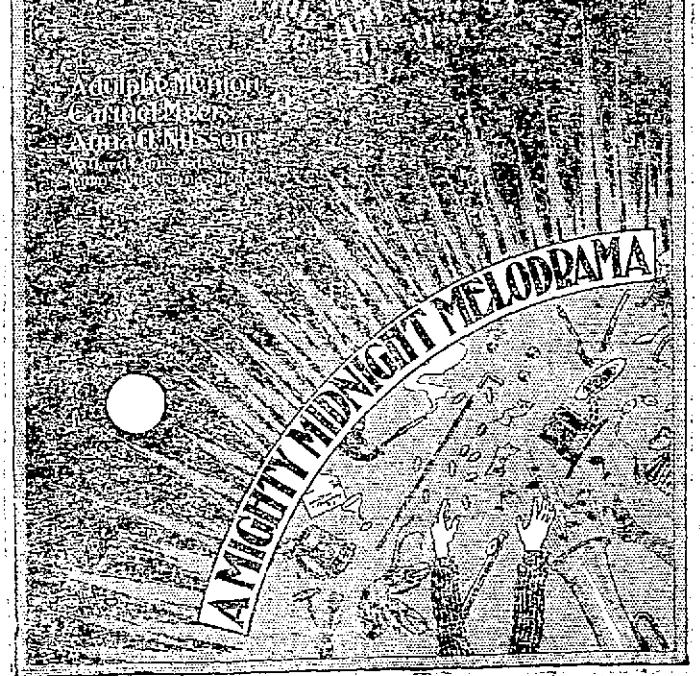

Lot o' funny things happen in this association.

Olympic Games May Threaten World Peace

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Conceived in the most harmonious spirit of friendly international athletic rivalry, the Olympic Games are surely not going to end in discord.

Yet, that is what some folks, returning from Paris, predict.

The turbulent scenes of disorder, which marred conclusion of many of the contests at this year's games, the free flights, challenges to duels, unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of spectators, disregard of the ordinary standards of hospitality and other regrettable incidents of the 8th Olympiad have given rise to grave concern and raised the question: Are the games a good thing, after all?

Disturbances which might well have resulted more seriously than in the duels, which, by the way, did not occur, have caused British sports men, for one group, to consider the advisability of further participation in the quadrennial sports. It has even been suggested that outbreaks of ill-feeling on the athletic field jeopardize world peace.

The Americans, for their part, bore the brunt of much hostility with most commendable calm. There were times when it seemed as though the cards were being deliberately stacked against them. There was the incident during the tennis matches, when our men's and women's teams had actually to threaten to withdraw unless "civilized" accommodations were provided. There was the conduct of the spectators which, allowing for a perfectly natural patriotic fervor, went beyond the bounds of all reason in a display of open animosity towards our men and women.

We were not the only ones to suffer in this respect. So disgraceful was the conduct of the French spectators at the semi-finals doubles match, in which Brugnon and Crochet of France defeated Condon and Richardson of South Africa that the officials were forced to have the players finish the match outside the stadium.

The Italian fencers, on two occasions, withdrew in white heat from competition, singing their Fascist hymn. On another, they are reported to have threatened to bring their "black shirts" and capture their Hungarian opponents and force them to swallow castor oil, the favorite outrage perpetrated by their kind.

The boxing at the Velodrome d'Hiver ended amid turbulence, with a French boxer biting his British opponent severely in the chest and the spectators trying to drown with cat-calls and jeers the singing of the Belgian national anthem.

The incident of the fist fight between the French and American rug teams is unpleasant to look back upon.

The main trouble probably was that this year's games had been allotted to France. Yielding to no one in admiration of the French, having served with their armies in the World War, the correspondent is nevertheless forced to admit that the French people were not in the proper mood this year to act as hosts for an assemblage of this kind.

National latrads have lived longer with the French, for excellent reasons, than with other nations. Under the guidance of Poincare and the Bloc National, not long enough out of office for their influence to have died, suspicion is a trait in the forefront of many a Frenchman's intellect. Resentment over their inability to conquer in sport as they conceived themselves to have conquered in war is another. Particularly did they resent America's obvious supremacy, and this resentment expressed itself in prejudice and partiality against our teams.

All this, of course, is over now, and there would be no need to bring it up if the question of the advisability of having any more Olympic Games were not being discussed seriously. As for the effect that the treatment accorded our athletes had upon their showing they scored more than twice as many points as any other nation—France being second, by the way—and our teams are returning with about all the trophies they can carry.

RAIN IS NEEDED ON FARMS OF LIMESTONE COUNTY

There seems no doubt that a general rain over this section of Texas would be of vast benefit to crops generally. The continued dry spell has hurt cotton and corn. In some parts, however, it is declared that a rain would be of doubtful value, as a wet spell might bring the leaf worm, boll weevil and other wet season pests that invade farm lands.

There was a time when an humorous character resided in these parts who would remark after a rain breaking up a dry spell that he was sure that rain had been worth at least five hundred dollars to Limestone county. It is generally conceded that a rain now in this section would add much more than that to the pocket books of surrounding farmers.

Conyers Is Honored Guest At Affair By His Townsmen

I. N. Conyers, for many years of Marlin and who has been engaged in business in Mexia for the past several years, was tendered a smoker recently by his fellow townsmen at Marlin. He and his family are to leave for Robstown which they will make their future home. Due to the many friends Mr. Conyers has in Mexia and throughout this section, the following will prove interesting, as taken from The Marlin Democrat in regard to the affair in his honor:

"Presiding as chairman of the meeting, Frank Oltorf declared no individual had brought more business to Marlin than Mr. Conyers. He referred to the scrupulous honesty of the man, declaring farmers were willing to pay Conyers more money for horses, mules, feed and seed because they knew they would get a square deal. Mr. Oltorf said that as Mr. Conyers' attorney, he had found him straightforward in his dealings with others and never desiring to shade a case in his favor."

Dr. S. P. Rice referred to Mr. Conyers, coming to Marlin some 20 years ago as a horse trader. He cited the expansion of his business as proof of his ability. Dr. Rice also called attention to the fact that Mr. Conyers had reared a splendid family in Marlin, in the course of which one of his boys, Douglas Conyers, served overseas with the American Expeditionary Forces during the world war.

"Any farming community would be fortunate to secure a man like Mr. Conyers," said J. C. Mollaway. "Not only Marlin, but all Falls county will miss him. It meant something to the farmers to know that they could bring a mule, a cow, or a load of feed to Marlin and get what it was worth. The departure of Mr. Conyers is going to make itself felt on my business and others as well as in his particular line."

"The working people of this section will miss Mr. Conyers," said Lloyd Blane. "He was their friend and has a lot best work."

J. E. Coleman said his association with Mr. Conyers in both business and in the personal affairs of life had been most pleasant.

A tribute to Mr. Conyers as a business man was paid by J. W. Lockridge, who had been associated with him in this capacity.

The regret of the citizenship of Marlin in general over the departure of Mr. Conyers was expressed by Raymond Barnett, who said the best wishes of the community would go with him in his new field.

Mr. Conyers responded to the talks in a fitting manner. He expressed regret at having to leave "old Marlin," adding that he was not "burning any bridges behind him," and that he would be back from time to time."

HOME DRESSMAKING

Copyright 1924 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.

A Model for Cotton, Wool or Silk

the model calls for 2 yards of material, 36 inches wide for the dress and 1 1/4 yards crepe for the blouse.

A pleasing detail of the blouse is the trimming of tiny self-frills stitched about the collar, cuffs and down the front. The diagram shows how the cuff is made and turned back after the ruffle has been set in. To make the cuff, cut two strips of material the same size. Have the placket ready and set it to the upper part of the cuff. Turn to the reverse side, then take the under side of the cuff, turn under the edge about 1/8 of an inch and baste to the lower edge of the outer cuff to which the ruffl has been added.

Sew the lower edge of the sleeve to the upper edge of the right side of the cuff and stitch. Then turn under the upper edge of the under side of the cuff and sew to the lower edge of the sleeve, as shown in the diagram. This sewing may be done with fine hemming stitches, or it may be done on the machine.

The skirt is laid in a wide box plait at the front, with smaller plaits at the side. If preferred, however, it may be gathered and attached to the lower edge of the waist. The waist is bound with silk braid that corresponds in color with the blouse. Velvet and velveteen are going to be very fashionable for school modes for girls. Velveteen wears exceedingly well and is dressy. Combined with the colorful silks, nothing is smarter.

LETTERS From the People

Austin, Texas, July 29, 1924.
To the Depositories of Independent School Districts:

On July tenth the State Board of Education fixed the apportionment for the scholastic year 1924-1925 at fourteen dollars per capita; of this amount I shall be able to send two dollars to each school district during the month of September. This is the first time in the history of the State that a payment on the per capita apportionment will have been made before the expiration of the first month of the school year.

You may reasonably expect the entire apportionment to be paid by May 1, 1925.

The law requires the Board of Trustees to select a depository annually. The term of the depository begins on September first. Inasmuch as there will be a payment on the per capita made in September, it is very important that the selection of the depository be made during the month of August. Blank forms for the bonds have already been sent to the presidents of school boards. The law governing the selection of the depository and making bond for the same makes the following specifications:

1. The amount of the bond must be double the probable amount of the total annual income of the district.

2. No member of the school board, nor the wife or husband of any member, may be an officer, director or stockholder in the bank selected as depository.

In making bond, please be careful to note:

1. If bond is made by two surety companies, each bond must contain a clause recognizing the liability of the other, as well as the amount of said liability.

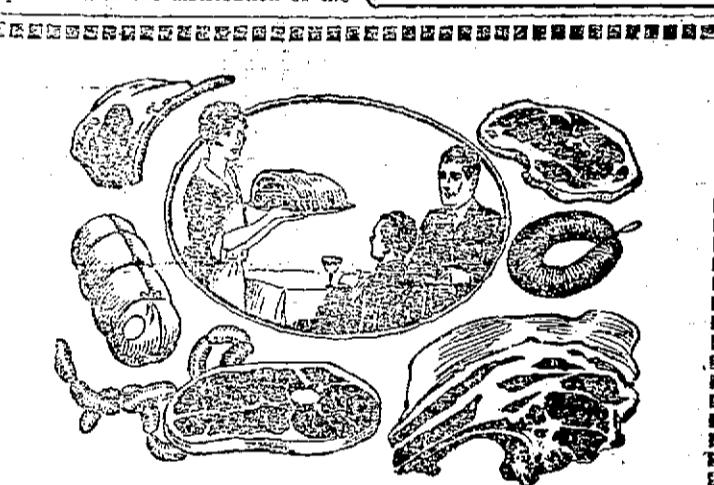

2. The date of selection of the depository by the school board must be prior to the date of execution by the depository bank, which date in turn must be prior to the date of approval by the school board. However, the three dates may be shown as concurrent, if all transactions occur on the same date. The date of selection and the date of execution, or the date of execution and the date of approval may be shown as concurrent.
